New Redrying Combine Formed

Four Large Companies Merge for Purpose of Re-handling Co-operative Marketing Association's Tobacco.

That the Universal, J. P. Taylor, Gorman and Willingham tobacco companies, scattered throughout the South, have decided to throw their support to the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing Association, is indicated in despatches from Richmond which announce the chartering in that city on Saturday of the Southern State Tobacco Company, Inc., which will take over and operate the redrying plants of the combine mentioned.

The object of the consolidation, it was said, is to place the redrying plants under one management in order that the owners of the properties may be better prepared to deal with the tobacco growers co-operative association in making contracts for the rehandling of leaf tobacco placed in its hands by the 70,000 or more growers who have signed the association's contract, through which all the tobacco they produce during the next five years will be handled. It is not the intention of the combine to build any more re-drying plants within the immediate future, it was stated.

Danville is interested in this new tobacco merger since it means that the local plant of the Willingham Co. on Lynn street will be used as a redrying plant for the Association which proposes to operate during the next tobacco season. The move ensures the growers of being enabled to bring their tobacco to Danville and having their crop put up in this city.

There has been gossip in trade circles for some time that the Universal, Gorman and Willingham were lending their moral if not financial support to the farmers' movement.

Main Street Plans Big Improvement

The stewards of Main Street Methodist church will be entertained at a supper at the Central Club tonight for the purpose of drawing up a budget for the conference year and discussing the church's affairs generally. It is understood that the budget will be reduced in view of the fact that the church proposes to raise money to fund the new Sunday-school quarters and possibly a new parsonage on the corner of Main and Second streets. It is understood that A. D. Schofield has offered to match dollar for dollar with the sum raised by the congregation and that the improvement will necessitate an expenditure of $80,000.

Wife of McManus In Spirit World

Mrs. George McManus, Put Into Mesmeric Trance by Japanese Before Fifty Witnesses.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Mrs. George McManus, wife of the creator of "Bringing Up Father," may turn out to be a new and valuable spirit medium if the future experiments to be conducted with her at the American Psychical Institute and Laboratory, No. 40 West 57th street, by Dr. Hereward Carrington, prove as successful as the one which took place at the institute's meeting Thursday night.

For the first time in her life Mrs. McManus was plunged into a mesmeric trance which lasted fully half an hour. During that time she exhibited remarkable evidence of possible psychic development, according to Dr. Carrington.

At the close of his lecture upon "Life and Death in the Light of Psychological Research," Dr. Carrington introduced the guest of the evening, Hideo Kimura, a Japanese psychic, who asked for volunteers from whom he hoped to choose a suitable subject for his experiments.

After trying some five or six people, Kimura's eyes suddenly lit upon Mrs. McManus. He became at once very excited and insisted that she had great psychic powers. Mrs. McManus said she was willing to submit to his powers and good naturedly took a seat on the lecture platform.

In broken English Kimura muttered a few words and looked steadily into Mrs. McManus' eyes. She obeyed him, he continued, and he passed his hands over her head and down her arms. Five minutes passed. Gradually her face began to lose color and her body shook violently.

"You are going on a journey," said Kimura. "You will see a great man. Then he will tell her to hold her finger in front of her and place her finger on the table."

Kimura turned to the audience with a smile. A hush had come over the fifty people, and Dr. Carrington leaned forward, keenly interested.

Mrs. McManus made no sound. Her twitching and shaking became more violent. Then he took her arms and placed

Compulsory Act For Schools In Effect Sept. 1

New Law of Virginia Requires All Children from 8 to 14 to Attend School—Penalties Provided for All Violations.

RICHMOND, April 23.—The new state compulsory education law, passed by the last General Assembly, will go into effect in all parts of the state on next September 1. It requires children from 8 to 14 years of age to attend school during the entire session.

After the educational survey was completed, the Virginia State Board of Education and the State Teachers' Association, with the aid of experts, drafted a compulsory attendance law. This was done after a careful study of similar laws in other states. The law which was prepared and introduced at the last session of the legislature, was very similar to the Alabama law, which has worked admirably.

The law was amended a number of times, and after being kicked around like a scrub football team it was finally passed. The provision in the state constitution which had prevented the passage of an effective compulsory education law, was repealed in 1920 by a majority of more than 80,000, the largest majority ever given in Virginia, which would appear to be a mandate from the people for a sensible compulsory education law.

The new law provides that every parent, guardian or other person in the state of Virginia having control of any child, or children, who have reached the eighth birthday and have not passed the knowledge of the state constitution which had prevented the passage of an effective compulsory education law, was repealed in 1920 by a majority of more than 80,000, the largest majority ever given in Virginia, which would appear to be a mandate from the people for a sensible compulsory education law.

Increased Interest In Cabell St. Revival

Sunday was a "red letter" day at Cabell Street Methodist church, the attendance upon the session of the Sunday school numbered 565, a number of new scholars were enrolled. At the 11 o'clock service the pastor, Rev. O. B. Newton, preached a splendid sermon on "The Glory of the Cross," before a large congregation.

At the evening hour, Rev. S. B. Williams was greeted by one of the largest congregations that ever assembled in this church building. The regular pews were filled, many chairs had to be brought in to accommodate those who came to hear the evangelist-pastor of Pittsburgh circuit.

The speaker held the undivided attention of the large congregation and greatly impressed all with the earnest message he brought them.

When the invitation was extended a number of persons were converted, and there were a large number of personal requests for prayer. The pastor received two persons into church membership by letter. The series of meetings will continue through the week, with song service at 7:30, preaching by Mr. Williams at 8 o'clock, subject, "An Emergency Call."

ABOTT'S TEAM TO PLAY CHATHAM TODAY

After spending some time in practicing this morning at the Stonewall Jackson baseball park, the local team left early this afternoon for Chatham where they will play the Chatham Training School. The line-up will be practically the same as in the game Saturday. Just what Manager Abbott will use in the box was not known at the time the players left.

Only one more day remains before the opening of the Piedmont season. The team will return tonight and begin making preparations for their trip to High Point Wednesday, which day they will play the first game. After the two-game series with the Furniture Makers, the Tobaccos will return to Danville and play Raleigh Friday and Saturday for the first home games.

Conference At Genoa Resumed

Mrs. Watt Hairston Dies In Henry Co.

News was received here today of the death near Martinsville of Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins Hairston, widow of J. T. Watt Hairston. Mrs. Hairston passed away at about 2 o'clock this morning after having remained for two days in a state of coma. About four weeks ago she sustained what at first was considered a stroke of paralysis, although it was never definitely pronounced as one. Since that time she had been in serious condition, and owing to her advanced age, 88, small hope was entertained of her recovery. Two days ago her condition became quite critical.

Mrs. Hairston died at her home, Beaver Creek, where she was born and where she had spent practically all of her life. She was a daughter of Marshall Hairston and Mrs. Anne Hairston. She was married to J. T. W. Hairston, who died several years ago. Mrs. Hairston outlived seven brothers and sisters, as well as her only two children. Deceased was widely known in Henry county and was held in affectionate regard by all who knew her. She was perhaps one of the largest landowners in this section of Virginia, owning large estates both in Henry and Patrick counties and in the city of Danville.

The funeral will be held at the old home place, Beaver Creek, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, where interment will also be made.

Broach Cleared Of All Charges; Is Given Freedom

W. H. Broach, who was recently arrested here on complaint filed by the Henry county authorities and who remained in jail for several days, has been released from custody and the warrant held against him, this charging him with conducting business as a peddler, dropped without trial following the taking out of the necessary license.

Broach, who was once a railway man, and now a cabinet-maker, stated today that his arrest was the result of a misunderstanding. He admitted that he had given a check at Figsboro, in Henry county, to a man for eggs and chickens, at a time when he did not have sufficient money to meet the obligation in the bank but, he asserts, he had a verbal understanding with the man in question not to cash the check until he had a chance to realize profits on the produce he had bought. The check, however, was presented for payment before Broach could make good on the transaction, and a warrant charging him with uttering a worthless check was sent to the local authorities, who apprehended him as a fugitive from justice. While in jail, however, the amount of the check made payable to the Henry merchant was made good and the charges were dropped and the local charge of peddling without a license was also never tried, since Broach paid the necessary license before he was arraigned. Several other checks, which were given to the merchant, were made good by Broach, these leading to the withdrawal of complaints which were made to the police. Records at the courthouse show no charge of forgery against Broach and a satisfactory settlement appears to have been made regarding other transactions which were complained of.

Announcement was made today that Short Stop Baker, last year with the Richmond team of the Virginia league, had drafted or sold to the Toledo club, in faster company, has been signed by the management of the Danville baseball club, to play the first game of the season at the local team. Baker batted .236 in 135 games and fielded .931 last year. He stole 20 bases. It also became known that Holmes, veteran outfielder and utility man, popularly and familiarly known as "Ducky" Holmes, had been signed by Manager Abbott to play on the team. Holmes arrived in Richmond a few days ago, and it is recommended that he was signed on the recommendation of Manager Ryan there, whose club roster was made up.

Doubts Doyle's Spirit Pictures

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 23.—New York society women first "psychic tea" at Hotel Pennsylvania, today, was the occasion for more men's being brought in for the coast and for questioning by a psychic authority of the authenticity of the spirit photographs shown by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle at Carnegie Hall last night.

Several hundred club women were both shocked and amused when Mrs. Owen Kildare, president, defiantly exclaimed in her opening address: "Thank God for the upper and her freedom from clothes. You women here who are bound by corsets belong to the dark ages of history. Your place is not in the civilized world. But I don't blame you. It's poor, prudish men who are retarding sex intelligence and enlightenment on this earth."

"It's always the father, not the mother that drives the errand child from the house," the speaker said.

Dr. W. F. Prince, of Antigonish, who hunt fame, explained the various species of psychic phenomena. He was exceedingly suspicious of the authenticity of Conan Doyle's "spirit photographs," he said.

Andre Tridon rapped the lat Anthony Comstock, vice fighter, and his successor, John S. Sumner.

JUST DRAGGED SO WEAKENED

Florida Lady Was In Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well

Blountstown, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I said, 'I wasn't so nervous, so kept it gradually the nervousness left me began to eat and sleep better. Was so well, and all right."

"Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

"Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others."

"Cardui has stood the test of extensive use, for more than 40 years, in the treatment of troubles common to women."

"Good druggists, everywhere, sell Cardui, the woman's tonic. Try it—adv."

German 'ColdLight' Would Cut Bill

New Electric Lamp Shown in New York Satisfactory for Reading, But Is Still Undeveloped.

NEW YORK, April 24.—An electric lamp which produces "cold light" has been invented by a German and several specimens recently have been brought into this country, according to Dr. Ehrlich Hausmann, professor of physics of the Brooklyn Institute.

The lamp is strong enough for a reading lamp in its present undeveloped state. If it becomes a commercial success and could be adapted to our system of lighting it would cut electricity bills more than 30 per cent, according to Dr. Hausmann.

"It is a gold light, but is produced with some waste of energy and not with the efficiency which Prof. E. Newton Harvey, of Princeton, seems to have attained," said Dr. Hausmann. "So far as I know, the work of Dr. Harvey is a great advance over anything previously done in the way of producing light by chemical means. The discovery of the agent which produces continuous chemical reaction seems to be his chief secret."

"I have experimented with the German invention, although I had nothing to do with inventing or developing it. It produces a pinkish-red in a partial vacuum, with a very slight production of heat. It is highly efficient compared to present electric lamps; though the waste of energy may be great, by comparison with the luciferin lamp of Dr. Harvey."

"The German invention must be run of a 240-volt circuit, which renders it impracticable at present for use on our 110-volt circuits in this city. By the use of three sockets, however, a 240-volt current may be obtained, which makes its use possible."

Inside of this lamp are two metal surfaces or electrodes which carry the currents. The pinkish-red light appears on the surface of these electrodes when the current is turned on. The light is not in the electrodes, but in the rarefied air particles on the surface. In an ordinary non-conductor, the strong current, however, breaks down the electrical resistance of the air molecules at the surface of the electrodes. In other words, it ionizes them. The process of ionization, or charging them with electrons, so as to make them conductors of electricity, produces the light.

The light of the aurora borealis is believed to be produced by nature in a similar fashion. The common astronomical theory of these lights is that they occur when the bombardments of electrons from the sun strike the rarefied upper air, usually from about 10 to 80 miles above the earth. Artificial auroras have been produced in laboratories by running an electrical current through vacuum tubes.

Experiments with these effects have been going on for years, and it may be some difficulty in proving to the Patent Office that he has made the basic discovery in this case. Dr. Hausmann said yesterday that he had not heard the name of the inventor.

From the appearance of the light, Dr. Hausmann thought that there was a considerable proportion of hydrogen among the gases of the partial vacuum. The complete vacuum is unknown, and one is considered fairly complete when the air or gas molecules have been thinned down to a few million per cubic inch.

The light-waves are produced by a special agitation of the electrons of an atom, which is caused in the German tube, apparently by the electrical conduct of free electrons with atoms of gases. In the Harvey tube the vibration is caused by the union of oxygen with the luciferin, the combination of atoms occurring in some curious manner to excite the light waves, while exciting very few of their almost constant companions, the waves which produce heat.

Envoy Is Accused Of Liquor Selling

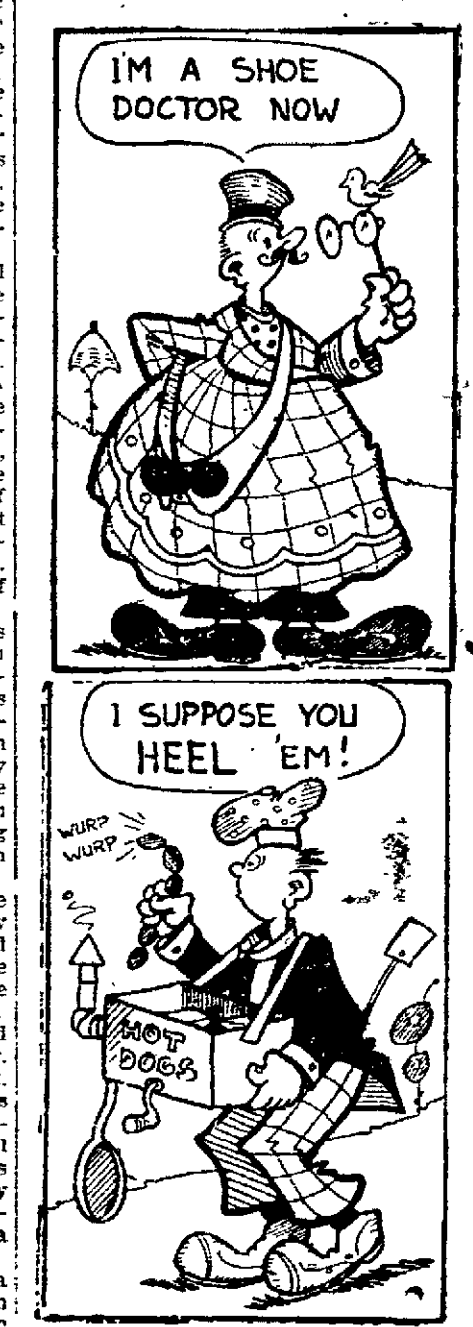

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—J. Frank Viquez, who has been living in this city for several months as a representative of the Costa Rican government, is in Atlantic City jail charged with selling intoxicating liquors and Eugene Raymond, Philadelphia attorney, is under $5,000 bail for the Federal grand jury, facing charges of transporting liquor.

Both men were arrested today in Atlantic City by Philadelphia prohibition enforcement agents, after the officers intercepted a shipment of 600 quart bottles of imported whisky, valued at $7,500. The agents say the rum was bought by Raymond.

The liquor was found in two trunks which were checked to Atlantic City by a negro drayman.

Viquez said he had been standing here in connection with the negotiation of a loan of $1,000,000.

THE NUT BROTHERS (Ches. and Wal.)

Fire At Willard Routs Out Coolidge At An Early Hour

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Vice President Coolidge, several members of the Senate and House of Representatives and many other persons prominent in public, business and social life, were among some 600 guests of the New Willard hotel who were routed out of their beds at an early hour this morning by a fire which swept the top floor of the 10-story structure at Pennsylvania avenue and Fourteenth street.

The blaze had its origin in the ball room on the tenth floor, where a few hours before President Harding, Mr. Coolidge, members of the cabinet and senators and representatives, foreign diplomats and others had sat around the banquet board as guests of the Gridiron club at its annual spring dinner and frolic. The fire broke out on the floor and the roof above, but tons of water poured into the flames seeped through to the floors below, causing much damage.

There was some confusion and excitement as hotel attaches, policemen and firemen rushed to the scene. A telephone operator on duty called room after room, but all those in the hotel got out of their apartments to the corridors and lobbies in safety. Many went to other hotels, carrying at least part of their luggage with them, but scores remained in the New Willard and returned to their rooms after the fire had been extinguished.

How the fire started may never be determined, but one theory is that a cigarette or cigar stump cast aside at the close of the Gridiron dinner found a lodging place underneath a rug or in a fold of heavy drapery. It was 5:45 o'clock when a passing policeman noticed smoke coming from the tenth floor windows. He turned in an alarm and then rushed into the hotel, informing the night.

Several fire companies were on the scene in a few minutes.

The clatter of their gongs woke Vice President Coolidge, who, upon going to a window, saw the apparatus drawing up across the street. He called Mrs. Coolidge, remarked that there was a fire in the neighborhood and suggested that they go out and see. While they were dressing they learned that the fire was in the hotel. Leaving their apartment on the third floor they descended to the lobby and Mrs. Coolidge was sent to the home of the vice president's secretary, Edward T. Clark.

Lady Nancy Astor a Guest At Reception

BALTIMORE, April 23.—Part of Baltimore society and all of the foreign delegates to the Pan-American conference of women met Lady Astor today at a reception given by Mrs. John W. Garrett, at whose suburban home the first woman member of the house of commons is a guest.

For everyone the lively, disconcerting, but a bright greeting or witty remark, and with many she talked over the happy times when she was a debutante beauty of Virginia. All came away smiling. Their spirits seemed electrified by contact with the vivacious visitor.

This morning Lady Astor rested and worked on one of the speeches she is to deliver.

"Which one?" she was asked. "I don't know which one," she replied. "Tonight she said her program was to 'clean my teeth, wash my face and go to bed.'"

Tomorrow she expects to attend some of the committee meetings preliminary to the opening on Tuesday of the convention of the national league of women voters.

Want Extraordinary Session Legislature

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 23.—The executive committee of the Virginia Real Estate Association in session here tonight adopted a resolution calling upon Governor Trinkle to convene the State Legislature in extraordinary session to consider adoption of the proposed twelve million dollar bond issue. The resolution was adopted by the committee voiced its opposition to the extension of the bill law, now in force in Washington to regulate rentals may be changed and tenants may be ejected.

W. B. Robertson, of Norfolk, explained the multiple system of listing property for sale in Norfolk and how it has resulted in elimination of unethical practices to the good of the public as well as realtors. Tonight following a luncheon at the Virginia hotel address were made by H. M. Sackett and H. C. Featherston, of this city.

D. Brown Ryland, of the Chamber of Commerce, in welcoming the committee, was unparing in his criticism of C. Lee Moore, state auditor, whom he charged with constantly used the facilities of his office to deny the true state of the Virginia highway's department. He charged Mr. Moore with making statements to belud the issue, President Bruce Bowe, of Richmond, presided.

Harding's Standby Is the Old Corncob

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President Harding, who keeps his many pipes that he and everybody else has lost count, has reverted to a Missouri meerschaum. He was a corncob smoker in his Marion newspaper days and did not change as a Senator.

When he became President he rose to a briar. People began making him presents of pipes, and now he has everything from an Egyptian hookah down.

A long rack in his study holds his favorites, but whenever he squares away for a real job a corncob always aids his mental process.

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, April 24.—Possibility of Jack Dempsey meeting Harry Wells, negro heavyweight contender to the championship, in a contest in London this summer loomed large on the strength of a cablegram from George McDonald, English sports promoter, received here today by the English fight manager, Dix Hollings.

Close School At Brookneal; Lack of Funds

Financial Difficulties May Put End to Differences Dividing the Town.

BROOKNEAL, April 22.—Financial difficulties very probably will soon put an end to the differences which have divided this town into two factions and caused the running of two high schools when there were pupils enough for only one.

The district school board, meeting here yesterday, voted to close the regular high school at the end of next week because of lack of funds with which to continue. The district board previously had refused to close the school and interested tax payers had an appeal from this decision pending before the county school electoral board, which also was in session here yesterday. The district board's decision to close at the end of the month was approved by the county school electoral board, composed of Commonwealth's Attorney A. H. Light, Division Superintendent of Schools J. J. Frey and Dr. W. F. Williams.

The differences started last fall when Professor Tingler, principal of the high school, was forced out of that position by the district board after changes of a more or less trivial nature had been preferred against him. Patrons of the school divided into two factions, one supporting the average required by the law and requesting that it be closed. The district board acted adversely on the petition and an appeal was then taken to the school electoral board.

Dr. Williams opposed and Mr. Light favored closing the school. Mr. Frey tended the school electoral board had no jurisdiction. After he had been advised by the commonwealth's attorney that the board had jurisdiction, another meeting was called for yesterday, but the decision of the district board to close at the end of the month obtained the necessity of the school electoral board taking any further action. The district school board is composed of J. H. Foster, G. M. McKiff and Jeffre White.

The subscription school, headed by Mr. Tingler, is still running, but there are indication that it, too, may close within the next week or so. Both factions now appear willing to reconcile their differences and start over again with one school next fall.

It is estimated that there is now a deficit of about $5,000 in the Brookneal district school fund. This will take all but about $2,000 of the 1922 taxes. County Treasurer R. W. Calahan has given notice that if the Brookneal board does not stop issuing warrants he will stop payment on them.

Richmond Man To Lose P. O. Is Plan

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Virginia Republican organization is preparing to chop off the head of Hay T. Thornton, postmaster at Richmond, and to hand him $5,000 a year job to deservin' Republican.

The civil service commission will be shortly requested by Congressman Slomp and Republican State Chairman Crupper to hold an examination as soon as possible to secure eligibles for appointment as postmaster at Richmond when Thornton's term expires on September 15, 1922.

Slomp and Crupper stated today that it was their purpose to have the examination held soon, so that a list of eligibles will be ready from which to choose the next postmaster for Richmond as soon as Thornton's term is out instead of having to wait some time afterward to secure a Republican to take his place.

It is taking about seven weeks now for the commission to certify to the postoffice department the names of the eligibles after holding the examination, and Mr. Slomp and Mr. Crupper intend that this seven weeks of waiting shall occur before the vacancy occurs at Richmond.

As matters now stand Joseph W. Stuart, active in Republican affairs in Richmond, stands the best chance of landing the postmastership. He has the support of Joseph W. Brady, the referee, for the third district. In addition to feeling very friendly to Stuart, Messrs. Slomp and Crupper are inclined to accept Brady's recommendations almost without question.

Stuart was a delegate to the Chicago convention that nominated President Harding. His seat was contested, but he made the fight and won. He has been very active in the campaign to support him for this good job in recognition of his effort.

Two others—John Gilbert Luce, secretary of the Richmond Republican club, and Melvin Flegenheimer, chairman of the Republican club—are being mentioned prominently for the Richmond postmastership, but neither has nearly the support of Stuart.

Stuart is the son of Colonel Anderson, but the colonel's endorsement will not be sufficient to land him the job.

If Stuart can pass the civil service examination with a rating high enough to place him among the first three eligibles he appears just now to have a comfortable lead for the office.

While the examination of candidates for the Richmond postmastership will be held by the civil service commission it is not a strictly civil service examination. The candidates will not be required to report for the examination at any place, but will be rated in their fitness for the place upon their education and training and their business experience and fitness.

Stuart has no objection to an inspection for the postoffice department and one for the civil service commission who will visit Richmond and verify the statements made by him and other candidates.

These reports will be reviewed by the board of examiners of the commission and then the names of the three highest eligibles will be submitted to Representative Slomp for him to make a choice and the candidate he recommends will get the job.

It has been rumored that Postmaster Thornton has reason to believe that because of his record or because he or his friends are on good terms with President Harding, he will be retained in office after his term expires. There appears to be no ground for this belief either on the part of Thornton or his friends. Representative Slomp and Chairman Crupper state they have never had any intimation of such a situation, and it is impossible to discover any feeling of the sort at the White House. There appears to be every probability that Mr. Thornton will "walk the plank" about September 14.

Candidates for the office must be between the ages of 30 and 65; a citizen of the United States; in good physical condition, must actually reside within the Richmond delivery district, and must have been a resident of Richmond for two years before the date of the examination.

Those wishing to take the examination, and who can comply with the above requirements, should secure Form 2241 from the Richmond postoffice as soon as the examination is announced, and file their papers with the civil service commission, Washington, D. C.

The office pays $6,000 annually.

GUILTLESS OF CRIME, GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE BY SCIENCE

CHICAGO, April 24.—Science, taking upon itself the triple role of judge, jury and executioner, sentenced Mrs. Jennie Barmore to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Barmore is guilty of no crime but she must isolate herself in her cell. She must remain alone. She can prepare food for no one but herself.

Because science says Mrs. Barmore is a typhoid carrier. She is not herself a sufferer from typhoid. But science says that coursing in her blood stream are myriads of the dread germs that cause typhoid. They say she might transmit this malady to others if any contact with the outside world were allowed.

Her case is one of the most unusual on record. It marks the first attempt by local health boards to use their broad police powers in isolating anyone who might endanger the health of the community.

What Official Says. Here is the final pronouncement on the case by Herman Bundensen, health official:

"Mrs. Barmore will be locked up permanently if she refuses to stop handling food and does not sterilize her hands."

"Meanwhile she can come and go under these provisions with due inspection of health officers. We could lock her up permanently but we do not wish to be severe."

But even this small degree of freedom is only theoretical and means nothing, Mrs. Barmore says.

"For when I venture forth people flee from me," she says. "Even my closest friends shun me. I intend to stay indoors until I die."

Mrs. Barmore lost her last attempt at unrestricted freedom when the Illinois supreme court denied a petition for rehearing in a long fight to secure a writ of habeas corpus which would remove Mrs. Barmore from jurisdiction of Chicago health authorities.

"Rather Be Dead." "I reared two children and sent them forth into the world as happy and the commission is for four years, or at the pleasure of the president."

Glass Angered Over Charges Against Woman

(By GEORGE H. MANNING.)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Senator Carter Glass' anger has been thoroughly aroused over the charges of embezzlement brought against Miss Jesse M. Martin of Campbell county, Va., that have resulted in the postoffice department withholding from her the commission as postmaster there. He will make every possible effort, he stated today, to put in jail the men responsible for the charges.

"I shall try to have put in jail the men who trumped up these charges against Mrs. Martin," declared Senator Glass with emphasis.

If consider the whole matter an outrage committed against a good woman who is innocent of any dishonesty.

Senator Glass then explained his view of the situation as follows: "Miss Martin has been for a long time agent for various periodicals and magazine agencies from which she received small commissions. A certain young lady came into the office one day and asked me to look after that was in December, 1919. In her usual way she subtracted her commission from the amount paid by the lady for the two magazines and sent a money order for the balance to the periodical publishers."

"That was in December, 1919. In her usual way she subtracted her commission from the amount paid by the lady for the two magazines and sent a money order for the balance to the periodical publishers. Considering the transaction on the same basis as that of her sister, Miss Martin deducted the amount of her commission and made out a money order for the balance which she sent to the publisher."

"The matter was investigated by a postoffice inspector and found to be of a very trivial nature. Miss Martin never intended any dishonesty."

Senator Glass has apparently indubitable evidence of the rascality of the men who brought the charges against Miss Martin and will attempt to have them put in jail, he said.

Several months ago the Republicans sought to appoint someone named Davis at Concord Depot in place of Miss Martin, who had been postmaster there for 19 years. Senator Glass went to the rescue of Miss Martin and through Representative Slomp succeeded in having her nominated. The Senate confirmed the nomination on March 27.

The Postoffice Department ordered the commission held up after it had received a report that Miss Martin had been indicted for embezzlement.

"I know personally nothing about this situation one way or the other," said Representative Slomp today. "I had nothing to do with the incident in any way. It came as a surprise to me especially in view of the fact that she had been postmaster there for 19 years under several changes of administrations."

Mr. Slomp advised against the pressing of the charges and the indictment against Miss Martin. It is understood, and readily admitted to her, that she had been postmaster for 19 years. Instead of having a Republican appointed, when Senator Glass urged the matter.

BOBBED HAIR TO BE DISCUSSED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 22.—Bobbed hair, curls, and permanent waves will be among the chief topics of discussion at the 1922 convention of the National Hair Dressers' Association, which will be held here July 31 to August 2, inclusive. Miss Theodora Bender, secretary of the St. Louis Hair Dressers' Association, announced.

Miss Bender declared that the hair dressers of the United States will not depend on Paris for style of the future, but with artists of note of the United States, would evolve American styles.

"The tendency seems to be toward bobbed hair, curls and permanent waves," Miss Bender said.

Large delegations from New York, Boston and Chicago are expected to attend the convention. A parade of the latest styles in hair dressing is to be one of the features of the meeting.

URGENT ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S OFFER

MACON, Ga., April 22.—A resolution urging the acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals and asking that Congress act immediately upon the proposition, was unanimously adopted by the state-wide rally which held today in Macon, Ga. Former Governor Emmett O'Neal, of Alabama and many other men prominent in the business and civic life of Georgia, addressed the meeting.

Anti-Blues Send Forth Challenge

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 22.—The Anti-Blues League of America has challenged several reform organizations to debate the subject "That Sunday Blue Laws are American in principle and Christian in character," at the convention here, June 23, 24 and 25, of the Anti-Blues Law League, which is to argue the negative side of the question.

Letters inviting representatives of the Lord's Day Alliance, the International Reform Bureau, and the Southern Methodist Sabbath Alliance to attend the convention have been sent by F. C. Dalley, national executive secretary of the league. Copies of the letters have been addressed to Rev. Harry L. Bowby, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, New York; Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, Washington, and North W. Cooper, Nashville, Tenn., representing the Southern Methodist Sabbath Alliance.

A challenge to affirm the question at debate is included in the letter, which contains a declaration that the heads of the league will disband the organization if the majority of the people hearing the debate side with the reform organizations. The letter, however, states that if the negative side of the debate should be upheld, the reform organizations should cease their activities for further Sunday closing legislation.

"The tie has come," the letter adds, "to squarely define the issue for the citizens of the United States. We will have eminent lawyers, reformers, scientists, inventors, artists and statesmen argue the negative side of the question. These persons are all members of the league."

Secretary Dalley said that the movement of the blue law advocates was gaining ground rapidly in several States and that Sunday closing laws are pending before the legislatures of seven States.

Crawford H. Ellis, of New Orleans, is president of the league, which claims to have several hundred thousand members, including prominent persons in all parts of the country. The league is a nation-wide organization to oppose and prevent passage of local, state or national blue laws.

TOBACCO COMP'NY SEEKS A CHARTER

RICHMOND, Va., April 22.—With a capital of $5,000,000 preferred stock, 50,000 shares of no par value common stock and 5,000 shares of no par value manager's stock, an application was filed with the State Corporation Commission yesterday for a charter for the Southern States Tobacco Company, which will operate in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, where it will build or acquire a number of plants, particularly in the bright belt.

The temporary officers are James Mullen, president, Lewis B. Williams, vice-president, and Guy B. Hazelgrove, secretary-treasurer. Permanent organization will be effected shortly, and it is understood that a number of Richmond tobacco men will be among the permanent officers of the company.

The Southern State Tobacco Company will be a service company to redry, rehandle and store tobacco for growers, associations, merchants or manufacturers, and it is destined to become an important branch of the tobacco industry of the three States where its activities will be centered.

No definite statement regarding the company's plans could be given out by the temporary officers, two of whom, Messrs. Williams and Mullen, acted as attorneys in presenting the papers to the State Corporation Commission. The charter will probably be granted today, and as soon as it is obtained, a permanent organization will be perfected.

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 22.—George Calhoun Field, of Wilmington, today inserted a four-inch display advertisement in a local newspaper apologizing to the guests who had assembled the evening previous to witness his wedding to Miss Ida Pearl Marina, who very carelessly failed to attend her own nuptials, and one willing bridegroom was not sufficient to carry out the ceremony.

Negroes Are Held For Grand Jury

Cases against Harry Price, Willie Moore and Johnny Mann, three negroes charged with storebreaking and carbreaking, were this morning sent to the grand jury. Price and Moore were arrested for breaking into the office of F. L. Walker at night some time ago. Mann was tried for breaking into a box car at the Southern depot and stealing flour. He admitted taking the goods but denied breaking open the car.

Moore and Price each tried to lay the blame on the other when their trial was begun. Moore said that Price committed the crime and put it on him because of some grudge. Price then asserted that Moore came by his house and asked him to work for him the remainder of the night. He said that on reaching F. L. Walker's office Moore told him to wait on the outside and that he went in and helped himself to office supplies.

Moore is known under several aliases. He also goes as Willie Green and has given the name of Willie Holdman once before. After hearing the discussion of his many aliases names, the negro unexpectedly spoke up and said, "I gave you all my right name. It is Willie Adams. This gave him four aliases.

Fines of $15.55 each were imposed on George Suttill, Shelby Warren, Charles Riley, A. J. Abney and James Matherly on charges of gambling. A similar warrant against George Johnson was dismissed. Johnson did not deny being present but stated that he was not in the game.

W. L. Harris was fined $10 and costs for driving an automobile while under the influence of whisky.

George Morris fined $2.50 for reckless driving.

George Moss, colored, fined $2.50 on a disturbance charge.

George Abbott fined $15.95 for speeding.

M. W. Shelton fined $5 and costs for reckless driving.

James Ishemer assessed $30 and costs for carrying concealed weapon.

CREMATION IDEA FINDING FAVOR

LONDON, April 22.—Cremation is increasing in Great Britain, according to figures given out at the annual meeting of the Cremation Society of England.

For the first time in the history of over 50 years, the meeting was presided over by a woman, Mrs. Spencer Graves.

Last year 1,322 cremations took place at the 14 crematoria in the country, that of Golden Green, in London, heading the list with 239.

Among those cremated last year were judges, bishops, surgeons, peerages, members of parliament, journalists, artists, soldiers, sailors and eminent women social workers.

The cremation of the late Duchess of Connaught by her specific instructions was an innovation in royal obsequies but the reform has always had strong supporters among English nobility. The Duke of Bedford son of one of the founders of the society, has erected a crematory for the sole use of his ducal house.

The present cost of cremation in England is roughly $30. Urns to hold the ashes are rarely used, the general practice being to scatter the ashes in the so-called "Gardens of Rest," adjoining the crematoria.

Bull Breaks 15 Ribs of Man

WAYNESBORO, Pa., April 23.—A bull, becoming enraged, chased L. M. Orner, 56 years old, around the barnyard on his farm near Brysonia, Adams county, Wednesday morning.

Mr. Orner, using a pitchfork, fought against the fence surrounding the enclosure. Fifteen of his ribs were broken.

Mr. Orner was knocked through the fence. An X-ray picture revealed eight ribs broken on one side, and seven on the other. Mr. Orner was also badly cut about the head.

Minister Cuts Salary 50 Per Cent

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Rev. Percy Slickney Grant, pastor of the Church of the Ascension, Fifth Avenue and Tenth Street, has voluntarily accepted a 50 per cent reduction in his salary to help his vestry cut down expenses and meet a large deficit. This action decreases his annual stipend from $10,000 to $5,000.

The vestry has also dismissed several salaried church workers and has raised enough money to meet the deficit for the current church year. Had this not been done, the parish house might have been closed. This might have meant the end of Dr. Grant's public forum, which has been held in the parish house since the late Bishop Burch two years ago rebuked Dr. Grant for using the church itself as a meeting place for the forum.

Harold A. Content, former Assistant United States District Attorney, has resigned from the vestry, but his resignation had nothing to do with the financial affairs of the church. It followed an open break between Dr. Grant and Mr. Content at a vestry meeting last Thursday afternoon when the rector refused permission to Mr. Content to present a certain subject to the vestry for discussion.

Church Is a Joke To Lovers Today, Bishop Declares

MERIDEN, Conn., Apr. 24.—Bishop Thomas Nicholas, of Chicago, in addressing the New York East Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today, deplored the change that has come in courting.

"In the old days," he said, "young folk did their courting on the way to church or prayer meeting. It's different with the present generation. They are inclined to adopt the way of Fatty Arbuckle and Peggy Joyce and attend resorts and places where the church is a joke and the Eighteenth Amendment is a laughing stock.

"In a survey of churches made recently I found that more former members of the church had become 'backsliders' than were actually members of the churches. Men are tired of coming to church and listening for 45 minutes to a dry sermon that has no application to their modern problems.

"It is necessary to make them feel that the church is something more than a life insurance against perdition. The church nowadays should clean up vices and help to keep the morals of its particular community sound."

APPEAL MADE FOR ANIMALS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 22.—This is my week, says Mike. These, at least, are the words attributed to him by H. H. Jacobs, of Kansas City, Kans., his interpreter, for Mike is a dog. The faithful fellow, who was rescued after undergoing torture, cannot ordinarily understand the words of humans to plead the cause of his kind, but H. H. Jacobs, a humane worker, has selected him as a worthy spokesman of all animals.

What the interpreter imagines the dog Mike would say about Be Kind to Animals Week, April 24-30, set aside annually and about the relations of man and beast, and the importance to beasts of the relations of man to man, follows:

"This is my week. Mine and my brothers'. The brothers that live as I do about your homes and the brothers that live in the woods and the mountains. This week is for them all.

"Have you ever realized how very near we live to you? Can you think of anything you do that does not in some way touch us? The war, business, depression, changes of season, the fashions, sicknesses, and death, marriage and—oh, your quarrels and your divorces, they break loose our moorings.

"This week is my week, mine and my brothers', and altogether we ask you this week to leave the hurting out. We want you to be happy this week. Happiness makes food plenty and beds soft and cold nights warm. For happiness is kind.

"Angels in heaven have looked down and seen us in traps, seen us hunted and driven, seen us slaughtered by slow and terrible methods, seen us entertaining you by our death agony and our terror. Seen us homeless and starving.

"We want you to be happy this week. Happiness makes food plenty and beds soft and cold nights warm. For happiness is kind.

WILL PAY TO WAIT AWHILE

(Wilson News)
The Times has been conducting an open forum on the question of Cooperative marketing, and proposes to continue to do so in order to enable our people to use their own judgment and arrive at their own conclusion. We believe they are serviceable for a and that if the Times give them the information that they will be able to decide for themselves much more than we are able to do for them.

We had been endeavoring to give them the information both as to the situation in Kentucky in the Burley district and also in the state, which as a part of the Tri-State organization composed of Virginia, North and South Carolina.

Time and time again the editor of the Times has been asked to give his opinion on the subject and we have been studying the question carefully and trying to look at it from all its angles that we might come to a correct conclusion. The truth of the matter is, Cooperative marketing of tobacco is an untried experiment, and new even to its promoters. No man can say how it will work out in advance as a test, for the organization is new and inexperienced. And the fire system is concerned as far as tobacco is concerned. Cooperative marketing may have worked all right in the fruit growing section of California, but the tobacco market is different. There are so many different grades, the territory covered is so vast, and the tobacco must be put up in different ways for the use of the manufacturer, that it presents almost insuperable difficulties, that seem to us cannot be overcome until a harmonious organization has been effected, and both the managers and their help have learned from experience how to handle it.

Another thing is the matter of production. Every farmer knows that a small crop of anything always brings more than a large crop. Yet the farmers will continue to plant a large crop which carries over a surplus, and this breaks the price. Is there any assurance that the members of cooperative marketing will reduce the acreage? With all the pleading that newspapers of the state and the mass meetings have given, the farmers have gone right on planting until they have broken the prices down to the bottom and forced themselves so they could not secure credit enough to make a crop, and then from sheer necessity they cut the acreage.

The contract which places their tobacco crop and its disposition absolutely in the hands of the officials of Cooperative marketing does not lay any stress on the main factor in the control of the price, that of production. It does not say to the farmers unless you plant for so many pounds of tobacco you will pile up each year so much tobacco that the surplus will break the Cooperative marketing company to finance and carry it, and later when the loans are called on this surplus it will knock the very bottom out of the market, and destroy the organization. This question of acreage should have been the most important feature of the contract, but is not even touched upon.

Again it is proposed to advance a certain percentage of the tobacco when it is delivered, the balance remaining in trust until it can be sold. Out of this must come the charges for warehouse expenses, the price of the warehouses purchased, and the rental and interest charges for carrying the tobacco. How much it takes of the balance of the tobacco to get the organization on its feet we are not prepared to say, but it should be considerable.

On account of the uncertainty as to its success, and the evident cost of effecting an organization and securing the receiving plants and re-drying houses it would seem to be a safer plan for those who have not signed up to wait until the association is an established fact and is a going concern.

BASQUE EFFECTS PERSIST IN THIS SUMMER'S FABRICS

THE basque effect of the very tight and very plain bodice, which has been a popular feature of many smart frocks during the past winter and spring, bids fair to remain during the coming summer. Many frocks of the sheerest summer fabric are seen with this perfectly plain and snug-fitting waist.

The skirts, usually rather full, are stitched firmly to the bodice, which opens in the back, and the distinguishing feature of the mode is the absence of sash, girdle or belt.

Gompers Admits Labor Abuses in New York City When He Is Questioned

NEW YORK, April 22.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of labor today appealed to the Lockwood investigating committee to keep hands off organized labor, and let unions of the building trades industry put their own house in order.

When Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee asked Mr. Gompers what he would say if he knew the committee contemplated recommending to the State legislature that laws be enacted "to halt the abuse of power by labor unions, by holding union members responsible for individuals for losses sustained to contractors through these abuses," the veteran leader half rose from his seat and replied:

"I should not only object; I should protest such action.

Asked what alternative there might be, he said, "patience, while organization of labor exerts itself to correct these abuses within the organization."

Then at the suggestion of Mr. Untermyer, he offered to "do all in his power to bring unions of the building trades industry to cease practices which he confessed were 'unfair, unwise, unequal, and not in keeping with the principles of organized labor.'"

Mr. Gompers declared, however, that "relief must come from within the American Federation of Labor, not from new laws asserting, 'you can't bring the American workman into a legal straight-jacket.'"

Mr. Gompers had been on the stand since yesterday when as a "volunteer but unwilling witness" he appeared at the opening of the committee's investigation into "labor and labor abuses in the building trades."

At the close of today's session, the committee adjourned until May 3 when Mr. Gompers will be asked to resume the testimony.

In the meantime, Mr. Untermyer announced, he would ask Mr. Gompers to make good his offer to aid the committee by suggesting how the building trades might be purged of labor abuses without interference by the State.

The labor leader sat for three hours today and listened to a long recital of acts which, according to testimony offered by union officials, contractors and workers before the committee in the 18 months of its existence, has obstructed building and according to Mr. Untermyer, blocked attempts to relieve congestion, house

General Nel Ospina, President-elect of Colombia, is on a "pleasure jaunt" in America. From the heyday of Washington politics he expects to glean some ideas that will aid him in the administration of his own government. President Ospina was jovial over the warm reception accorded him upon his arrival in New York.

Mary Garden Is Back In Ranks Of Opera Singers

CHICAGO, April 23.—Mary Garden announced tonight her retirement as director general of the Chicago Opera company, a position which she has held for the past year.

"I am an artist and I have decided that my place is with the artists, not over them," she declared in a statement which was taken as an indication that she would remain with the organization.

When Mr. Harold McCormick bestowed the honor, naming her general director of the Chicago Opera company, the statement continued, "it was understood that I would hold the position for a year which meant the end of the reign of grand opera in Chicago under Mr. and Mrs. McCormick."

When the new civic organization through its present, Mr. Samuel In-sull, elected me again general director—which honor I now decline—my fighting spirit tells me to stay, but my reason bids me to go.

This tower of artistic strength which is the Chicago Opera company, is beginning its new life under the guidance of a very worthy man, Mr.
Insull, and thank God no one will be able to 'put anything over' on him.
His thoughts are American, his decisions are American and that is what we, the organization, have never had.
Mr. Insull and the opera company have in me a loyal soldier ready to serve them in whatever capacity they see fit."

The statement ended with a postscript declaring: "This is my authorized statement and the only one."

Levee Gap Too Big To Be Sealed; Damage Is Great

NEW ORLEANS, April 23.—Hope of closing the breaking in the Mississippi levee which occurred at Martie cove, 26 miles south of this city, was gone today after it had widened to a 12-foot gap. Despite the efforts of engineers to close the gap, the river to its left was able to flow into the Gulf of Mexico.

lements, back, levers were cut in several places but the flood waters continued to spread over large areas of land with no appreciable let up.
